

Simplicity

Tim Curry

I try every way I know to tell you
I run down all my clever ways
Every smart, forever phrase
How'm I gonna get her? hack out another love letter
But you deserve better babe

The hardest thing for me,
Is true simplicity
But it's the only thing that's good enough for you

Every day I wake up later
I'm afraid to face the sun
I want to hide from everyone
Memory is bitter,
Tell myself I'm no quitter
But the gold no longer glitters babe

The hardest thing for me,
Is true simplicity
But it's the only thing that's good enough for you
Blood in a bucket
No rhyme, mainline, sunshine
And it's the nearest this boy's been to joy

And I do believe
I shall believe
I shall be free
On the day you say you need me
Need me
Need me
Yeah.....

I push the doorknob to the booze
I might try out for the blues
Aching and lonely,
What does it take to telephone me?
I'm much too close to breaking

But I do believe,
I shall believe
I shall be free
On the day you say you need me
Need me
Need me
Yeah....

The hardest thing for me
Is true simplicity
It's the only thing that's good enough for you
The hardest thing for me
Is true simplicity
It's the only thing that's good enough for you...
Yeah, Yeah...
