

Everybody's Wrong

Tim Finn

Well, my friend we've ended in a strange place
Who'd have thought you'd ever close the door in my face
If only you could meet me halfway we'd be there in the clear
But you keep on pushing me away

If you're the only one whose right
Then everybody's wrong and I don't want this fight
It's a one man crusade you're on
Everybody's wrong

Everybody's wrong

Sure as stares across up on the steeple
Bad things will happen to good people
Don't imagine that it's ever gonna change
Getting older but no wiser
Don't forget that we're all the same

If you're the only one whose right
Then everybody's wrong
And I don't want this fight
It's a one man crusade you're on
Everybody's wrong

And I can't let you get away with it
But I don't wanna let you down...no

If you're the only one whose right
Then everybody's wrong and I don't want this fight
It's a one man crusade you're on
Everybody's wrong

Everybody's wrong