

Doing Everything Right

Tim Montana

My truck tires need to be rotated
My whole world could use a fresh coat of paint
Seems like I'm always messing up something
I'm always standing there when something breaks

Hey, I ain't never been perfect
No, matter how hard I try
Yeah, I don't know what you're doing, but
Girl, you're doing everything right
Girl, you're doing everything right

Something bout a pair of chrome aviators
Holding back all that sun-bleached hair
They broke the mold on the day that they made you
I guess I just got lucky somewhere

Hey, I ain't never been perfect
No, matter how hard I try
Yeah, I don't know what you're doing, but
Girl, you're doing everything right
Girl, you're doing everything right

Like you don't have to try
Girl, you make it look easy when it's hard to be mine

Hey, I ain't never been perfect
No, matter how hard I try
Yeah, I don't know what you're doing, but
Girl, you're doing everything right
Hey, I ain't never been perfect
No, matter how hard I try
Yeah, I don't know what you're doing, but
Girl, you're doing everything right
Girl, you're doing everything right

You're doing everything right
You're doing everything right
You're doing everything right
