

Down But Not Out

Tim Timmons

Down here on the floor
Things never seen before
These wooden boards are torn and weathered
Oh, the weight of these shoes
Pressing in the mud and bruises
Are we stuck down here forever

If we're being honest
This hurt we have in common
Can hold us to the floor
Or lift us up so we can rise above it

Everyone of us has fallen down
We've all hit the ground
And been broken
Everybody's got their cross to bear
When we all meet there
We will shout it
We're down but we're not out
We're down but we're not out

Oh, the greatest mistake
Is thinking we're alone in this place
Our hands are strong when held together
So let's be honest
This love we have in common
Helps us carry on
And lifts us up so we can rise above it

Everyone of us has fallen down
We've all hit the ground
And been broken
Everybody's got their cross to bear
When we all meet there
We will shout it
We're down but we're not out

We are never alone
Together we've got this hope
Our God is greater than any battle we have known
No, we're not alone
Together we've got this hope
Our God is greater
Our God is greater...

Everyone of us has fallen down
We've all hit the ground
And been broken
(Our God is greater...)
Everybody's got their cross to bear
When we all meet there
We will shout it
We're down but we're not out
We're down but we're not out
We're down but we're not...
We're down but we're not out
