

Dissociation

Timber Timbre

Lay down in a tall grass
Just because we know how
A long, black cloud is coming down
And I'm going back to evil now
Hello, darkness, my old friend
Good will still barking at the choir
Show yourself one last time to me
Before I go back, back to evil now

Replace our faith and trust with the succubus
The night hag turns to dust
So you know I must, you know I must

Be going back, back to evil now
I'm going back, back to evil now
I'm going back to evil now
I'm going back, I'm going back to evil now

Come lay down
Come lay down in the tall grass with me
And let vengeance nourish your final hour
Surrender all your good intent
You'll go back, you'll go back
You'll go all the way back down

Replace our faith and trust with the succubus
The night hag turns to dust
So you know I must, you know I must

Be going back, back to evil now
I'm going back, back to evil now
I'm going back to evil now
I'm going back, back, back to evil now
I'm going back to evil now
I'm going back to evil now
I'm going back, back to evil now
I'm going back, back to evil now
