

Call Your Girlfriend

Timeflies

Call your girlfriend
Its time you had the talk
Give your reasons
Say it's not her fault
Call your girlfriend
Call your girlfriend

You think that I don't give a fuck
I do
Told you I would always be the one
To come through
Don't believe everything you hear
It's not true
See, I was on my way down
Girl, I said I stay down
You know what I wanted
I was all on you
We always dreamed of starting over
If we had the money
We would go anywhere
I always told ya
I would find a way to get it
Promised I'd show ya
Going as far as possible
It would only make us closer
I got too many confessions
I tried to use my discretion
Instead I just left you guessin'
With no one to answer these questions
You see, girl, I was just flexin'
How could I not learn my lesson
Guess I gave up on regretting
Got so lost in obsession
And I don't know
If I would do it again
And I don't know
I didn't want it to end
And I don't know
What the hell I should do
Just know everything I did, girl
I did it for you

Call your girlfriend
Its time you had the talk
Give your reasons
Say it's not her fault
Call your girlfriend
Call your girlfriend

I wish that you could understand
How we got here
The truth is
I prolly never find the proper words
To explain why the hell I do this
And you had no idea, clueless.
But, now even more than you
I'm finding I'm tired of the excuses

A web of lies that I started weavin'
I told so many even I started believin'
I hope you're ready for the time
When I give you my reasons
The truth that will make you question
Every fiber of my being
See, all the times we talked about running away
And I thought I had some
So there would always be some in a safe
Had to keep it a secret
All according to plan
Had the bank account set up
For the moment we land
See, all the money, baby,
That we could just take
That's before they came
And put me in back of the van.
Now I'll never forget
The pain I saw on your face.
I would explain it all
If you just gave me the chance.

Call your girlfriend
Its time you had the talk
Give your reasons
Say it's not her fault
Call your girlfriend
Call your girlfriend

You understand that I had our tickets to Rio
Planned our escape on the Dio
And we could be on the beach
Somewhere sunny, sippin' sangrio
We could be anybody
We'd just be some other people
With a mansion and everything
That me and you ever dreamed of
And now it's gone
Girl, just know why I did it
But, it went wrong
And now I have to admit it
Sitting all alone, now
It's so hard to give up
But, I only get one phone call
I just hope you pick up

Call your girlfriend
Its time you had the talk
Give your reasons
Say it's not her fault
Call your girlfriend
Call your girlfriend