

Spent all my money and time on you
Never thought that it would've ended like this
So tell me what I'm supposed to do, without you

And now the sky is falling
And I'm all alone
Searching for reasons why I'm all alone
And the sky is falling

Every time I try to hold on to you
You slip through my hands
Ooh and now I don't know what I'm gon' do
Without you when you slip through my hands
(When you slip through my hands)
So far away
When you slip through my hands

When you told me you'd always be there
I believed every word I trusted you
But actions that never take are words that just fade away
And I gotta face the pain

Every time I try to hold on to you
You slip through my hands
Ooh and now I don't know what I'm gon' do
Without you when you slip through my hands
(When you slip through my hands)
So far away
When you slip through my hands
(When you slip through my hands)
So far away
When you slip through my hands

And now the sky is falling
And I'm all alone
Searching for reasons why I'm all alone

Every time I try to hold on to you
You slip through my hands
Ooh and now I don't know what I'm gon' do
Without you, when you slip through my hands

Every time I try to hold on to you
You slip through my hands
Ooh and now I don't know what I'm gon' do
Without you when you slip through my hands
