

Yea so you've been before
Yea I heard the news
You've gotten all you've been asking for
But still got something to prove
Now what more can I freely give
That you haven't already stole

Oh my heart is like an open book
The truth is written, as it should

If the world decided to fall today
If the clock stop ticking
Wasting time away
If I had to do it all again
If I had to do it all again
