

The One

Timothy Bloom

While the summer's so clear, that I might say
Logic and the meaning is scaring me away
Wasn't looking for a lover to ride off into the sun
The cards are in your favor, hey you could be the one

The one, the one tonight
The one, the one for life

Not often do I get the pleasure from my mistakes
Living in the moment at least to my escape
Headed for a quarter, to search for new
But reading all these signs just bring me back to you

The one, the one tonight
The one, the one for life

You see the writing's on the wall, so yeah my heart's close
You playing with a fire, just don't lose your soul
If you open up these gates, will heaven let you in?

The one, the one tonight
The one, the one for life

For life, tonight

Ha ha ha hey, haha ohoh
Say you're the one, you're the one, you're the one I wanted
Uh, yeah, you I wanted
Say you're the one, you're the one, you're the one I want
