

Your Love Has Never Failed Me Yet

Tina Arena

I used to wake in the morning with the weight on my heart
Keeping life at a distance
I didn't want to feel that spark
Tried to drown my shadow
In a river of doubt
Saw your face in the water
And you're the one that pulled me out
You're the one that pulled me out

And the way that I feel
The clouds roll back and I can see the sun
The way that I feel
You touch my heart
And I'm the only one
To think I doubted you
It takes away my breath
'Cause your love had never failed me yet
Your love has never failed me yet

It's hard to remember
It's so easy to fall
Way, way down
Where I'm never gonna hear your call
I'm a prisoner of weakness
A slave to regret
I believe in forgiveness
'Cause your love has never failed me yet
Your love has never failed me yet

And the way that I feel
The clouds roll back and I can see the sun
The way that I feel
You touch my heart
And I'm the only one
To think I doubted you
Well it takes away my breath
'Cause your love had never failed me yet
Your love has never failed me

And in the darkness
There's a light that's so clear
I can see your loves reflection
I can feel it right here

It's the way that I feel
To think I doubted you
Well it takes away my breath
'Cause your love had never failed me yet
Your love has never failed me yet

The way that I feel
To think I doubted you
'Cause your love had never failed me yet
