

All I See

Tina Dickow

In every heart
There's a hole
There's a space
For something new
At every start
There's a goal
There's a place
We're running to
But in my strangest dreams
Through nights of feverish screams
I don't know what it means

But all I see is you
And when I've run too far
Chasing that lonesome star
I don't know who you are
But all I see is you...

In every girl
There's a door
An open gate
To walk right through
But every girl
Wants much more
Than she can take
And hold on to
And in my highest hopes
My brushes biggest strokes
A heavy stone that floats

All I see is you
With fear that won't let go
Tears that won't stop to flow
The truth I'll never know
All I see is you...

All I want is you...
And in my highest hopes
My brushes biggest strokes
A heavy stone that floats

All I see is you
And when I've run too far
Chasing that lonesome star
I don't know who you are
But all I see is you...
All I want is you...
All I have is you...
