

I'm Ready

Tina Turner

I was happy with the fear, every moon was new
I was searching for myself
When I found an angel there in the clouds I flew

Now it seems like forever since I said that I'd never Find a love whose aim was true
But I found that love and I found myself in you

Now I'm ready to touch somebody
I'm ready to love someone
I'm ready to listen to my heart and let you in

I'm ready to touch somebody
I'm ready to love someone
I'm ready to finally feel something real in me

I was running out of runway, too scared to land
There was stardust in my eyes
When I crashed into something I've never felt before

Whoa, I survived from the tide now I'm finally alive
'Cause I'm right here in your arms
And it's time that I live and it's time that I give you more

'Cause I'm ready to touch somebody
I'm ready to love someone
I'm ready to listen to my heart and let you in

Now I'm ready to touch somebody
I'm ready to love someone
I'm ready to finally feel something real in me

This was meant to be
'Cause you were sent to me

And I'm ready to touch somebody
I'm ready to love someone
I'm ready to listen to my heart and let you in

Now I'm ready to touch somebody
I'm ready to love someone
I'm ready to finally feel something real in me
I'm ready to finally feel something real in me
I'm ready
