

On to the Next One

Tink

Ohhh
(On to the next one)
Ohhh
(On to the next one)
Woah oh
(On to the next one)
Oh, oh
How can you love me?
You never touch me
Giving me signs
Make up your minds
(On to the next one)
'Cause I know, I know

I waited all of these years
You gave me nothing but tears
I was so into your heart
So many secrets you kept in the dark
Say that you want me but that was the twist
Thought you would want it and then you just dipped
That's how you coming and let me know something so I won't be out here assum ing you sleep
Leading me on, three in the morning and I don't know where you are Boy I'm commercial, I'd rather be single Look at your snap and I know that you mingle
But all of these hoes, got you alone, and now while I'm here in this crib
I know how this goes, can I get a yes or a no?

Why is it so easy for you to move on?
(On to the next one)
One day you need me the next day you're gone
(On to the next one)
You was my nigga and I was your chick
Now you just actin' like I don't exist baby

Gave you the key but it wasn't enough
I wish I knew who you were from the jump
You gon regret the day that I'm out, out, oh
Tink got a whole lotta shit on her mind
Been down this road so many times
Why do you play so many games?
(Play so many games)
I'm tryna fight through this pain
I used to fuck with you on so many levels, yo mama, yo sister, they all know the facts
You shut me out when I needed you close and you gon' be upset when I finally snap
Nobody know what I go through alone
I ain't that easy to pull on and press
Gotta be picky with who lay up with me
'Cause niggas'll hit it and move to the next one

Why is it so easy for you to move on?
(On to the next one)
One day you need me the next day you're gone
(On to the next one)
You was my nigga and I was your chick

Now you just actin' like I don't exist baby
