Tiny Ruins

Sounds like a warning
Sounds like it's too late
It settles in the evening haze
Sounds like it's our fate

And sounds like there's a reason
Talking heads on the late night show
Is it just a season because I learned
Seasons come and they go

Sounds like a classic time-loop movie
Charades game without end
The clock keeps striking midnight
When will we comprehend
What we're all in here for?
What we're all in here for?
What we're all in here for?

Driven to distraction
I hear they're shooting out of range
Can you see the pattern now?
I'm learning we, we gotta get beyond this stage

We drag out all these phrases
Our hearts blink in sympathy cards
The message reads over and over
Why does it have to be so hard?

Sounds like a classic time-loop movie
Charades game without end
The clock keeps striking midnight
When will we comprehend
What we're all in here for?
What we're all in here for?
What we're all in here for?
