

Love You, Funny Thing

Tiny Tim

All the world loves a lover
But a lover doesn't always love love
For some it's very bad, it makes them very sad
For some it's like a blessing from above

Love, you funny thing
Look at what you've done to me
Love, you funny thing
You haven't any sympathy

First you come and bring happiness into my heart
Then, you funny thing, you go and tear it right apart

My life was just a Heaven below, someone made it seem that way
Then, for no reason, she let me go, do you call that fair play?
I'm just wondering what the end is gonna be
Love, you funny thing, won't you bring her back to me?

Hearts are quite often broken
Tears are often shed for what you do
You first show us the light then lead us into night
I wonder why we still have faith in you? Oh

Love, you funny thing
Look at what you've done to me
Love, you funny thing
You haven't any sympathy

First you come and bring happiness into my heart
Then, you funny thing, you go and tear it right apart

My life was just a Heaven below, someone made it seem that way
Then, for no reason, she let me go, do you call that fair play?
I'm just wondering what the end is gonna be
Love, you funny thing, won't you bring her back to me?
