

Another One

Title Fight

Writing down thoughts of grieving
While other people laugh and are singing
Here's another one for you to miss the meaning
Does that make sense or am I misleading?

I'd put myself out there
If I thought that you would care

Vague Descriptions of my feelings
Make perfect background music for staring at ceilings
Here's another one for you to miss meaning
And you wonder why I am always leaving

I'd put myself out there
If I thought that you would care

Pretend you can't hear me
I'll just keep on writing
