

The Shadow of the Rabbit

To Kill a King

Everywhere you smile ripples out far and wide
To the edge of time bouncing back all their light
I'm going I'm going home
Tracks in the fresh snow
Show me where I need to go

Settle all the books before you leave oh sweet darling
Everything you've done and all you've been in straight columns
It's the strangest thing
You take the love you bring

The shadow of the rabbit dances on everything
Moments you've forgotten return like golden dreams
I'm going I'm going home
Tracks in the fresh snow
Show me where I need to go

Settle all the books before you leave oh sweet darling
Everything you've done and all you've been in straight columns
It's the strangest thing
You take the love you bring

So still tonight, the hills, the woods are all so quiet
The stars shine out their salute
You're a tapestry woven tight and complete
The chaos and the kindness woven through

Old pain oh old pain I won't talk with you again
Old pain oh old pain watch it all just drift away

Settle all the books before you leave oh sweet darling
Everything you've done and all you've been in straight columns
It's the strangest thing
You take the love you bring
