Yeah Ouuuu I'm from the weeeest

Che Che Che Igbo kwenu hey Naija boy they love how I accentuate Most my partners trynna ball like the NBA So they out here moving products like it's Mary Kay I don't knock 'em I just know the game They ain't slaves, they just really love the whips and chains The more things change, the more things stay the same When I flow every corner see fire like I'm Kane So I spit fire, no extinguisher Might just teach Fat some Igbo to make her a bilingual Speaker, keep up I'll teach ya to aim right with that thing you pull Outcho britches when yo' finger itches cause you ain't too keen to wool Being pulled over got you pressed like a license plate You a goofy if Lucy could press yo' buyttons and getcha heated like microwav es, (ouu) You, might just need to meditate Get yo' mind out that vegetative state It's time to elevate

Cause I came straight from out the slums
So I need a check like them Jordan 1S
I swear this for all of my day ones
Out here making bread but they came from crumbs

Look

Flow hotter than pepper spray

Spit it for my kinky hair kinsmen that have been led astray More than bullets from those who pull it in hopes to decimate All they opps, cause on our blocks we learnt to regulate from

Warren G, It's kinda easy, when ya listen to that G'D up sound I had it on r epeat, (ouu)

Then I got it out the mud

Walked straight out the puddle

Where I'm from you yapping they start clapping like it's time to break the h uddle

Ouuuuuuuuuuuu

Ready break

I remember eating free lunch with them heavy trays Most my homeboys blew heavy haze after seventh grade And most my homegirls had oval edges with heavy lace

It's time to elevate

If they hatin' baby let 'em hate, (yea)

You can see me shinin' in the shade, (yea)

We done came up on some better days
