

I used to dive in it but now I stay by the shore
'Cause when you reside in it, your eyes be tinted way much more
Than usual, cloudy judgement ain't viewable
To the people who be trapped in 'em, all that glitters ain't platinum
Or gold partna, I chose proper, but yet and still Could never birth something real like contraceptive pills
Ooh, 'cause I swear I used to feel Like relationships were built on getting draws being ideal
But it wasn't cousin, that dirty dozen of gangsta that instilled
Up in my mental, really ain't have credentials
'Cause you know they fatherless and never really bothered with
The fact that all they lil' intuition came from super fictitious
Low key malicious doctrine taught by the elders on the block
But when you ain't that close to heaven, hell you give what you got Ooh, even if it is rooted in ignorance
Most captives don't recognize that deliverance is necessary
To counter hereditary impotence
Even if you innocent, you still guilty, it's hard to feel me
Grew up jammin' "So Fresh and So Clean," but was still born filthy
Holy cow, I be feelin' milky when I think about
All the lil' floozies that were drawn to me and let me dig 'em out
When no doubt I was just, nah scratch that Look, when I was really just searching for something deeper
Went on tour for my purpose, no Justin Bieber
To every lil' mama boppin' that I call skeezer
Wish I could tell ya "you one in a million," word to Aaliyah, ooh

You are one in a million
You (You) are (Are) one (One) in (In) a (A) million

And you're exquisite (Yuh)
Made perfect without a blemish (Flawless)
Sole purpose is to replenish (Water)
The Earth until it is finished
And that's a long time
A mighty long time
A long time
So, so, so, so, long

Or is it? Hell I don't know though
But if it is, I hope you find a ring like master Frodo
I pray a life over you indicative of risotto
That's a lot of cheese and sauce, it take a lot to be a boss
Feel like often we have lost the vision that shifted us from the prison to t he cross
My mission is simply just to depict that we have flaws
Within us but don't be ignorant, inclement weather falls
On everything breathing, that's law, ooh

You are one in a million
You (You) are (Are) one (One) in (In) a (A) million
