

Come Back Home

TOBi

You've done some things that require forgiveness
You made mistakes, well shit, who hasn't?
You got to learn, for goodness sakes
To send yourself the love you've given out
I played the fool
For way too long since I been here, it's true
I start the story back from page one
When these blood, sweat, and tears make a trail, you can tell where I came from Oh

You can't find no buried treasure in the sky
You were never satisfied, I wonder why?
Build a wall, very hard to climb
Build it tall, ignore the other side

I been runnin' up and down
Searching for a while
Looking for long time
For myself, I'm begging for forgiveness
I'm begging for forgiveness
Come back home
Come back home, home
Sometimes
Sometimes

I must admit, I felt the pressure
You see the lengths I took to get acceptance
But don't paint me victim or crying wolf
'Cause I don't belong in the token seat in the dining room
I came here for mine

You can't find no buried treasure in the sky
You were never satisfied, I wonder why?
Build a wall, very hard to climb
Build it tall, ignore the other side

I been runnin' up and down
Searching for a while
Looking for long time
For myself, I'm begging for forgiveness
I'm begging for forgiveness
Come back home
Come back home, home
Sometimes
Sometimes

Come back home
Come back home, home
Sometimes
Sometimes
