TOBi

My woes ran out today, she came 'round this way
I gave her the time and space, gave her the right of way
I have faith that ate the gear, slept with insomniacs
She took all my deepest secrets to the laundromat

And I hope I never met a lover like this before
I took a leap, although I've been wrong before
She opened up and now you're Geronimo
Like I'm down to drown

I'm a different man, different man
Different man, different man, different man
I'm a different man, different man
Different man, different man, different man
Oh

It feel like bonding
It feel like bonding
And bondage never felt so good

She said till death do us part, or till a text do us part Oh, and you try protecting your heart, ain't no one catching yo ur fall, no
You ever made love to your woman in the back seat?
Keep going, ride it slow, make sure lights is low, you'll never catch me

I can tell by the smirk on your face, you a damn thief
Took my breath away, gave your neck a choke, was all you asked me
There really ain't no need to put a claim on it
Say you got my name all engraved on it
Yeah, you make me slay for it
You gon' make me wait on it, stay on it
Spend another day on it (Wait on it, wait on it)
The way she swing her hips like my metronome
The way she lick her lips tell me, "Welcome home"

I'm a different man, different man
Different man, different man, different man
I'm a different man, different man
Different man, different man, different man
Oh

It feel like bonding
It feel like bonding
And bondage never felt so good
