All I am is because of You
All I'll be is because of You
All I was is lost, but now I'm found

All I am is because of You
All I'll be is because of You
All I was is lost

I've been lost more than once
I've been frozen by the high beams
Ninety-nine others but You always seem to find me
Lost in my thoughts and my dreams building empire
Way down a road that I thought I'd retired

I gave You my life at thirteen, that's where You found me
Had no idea all the grace that You'd allow me
Had no idea what it meant for You to find me
But lookin' back I know the dirt behind me

Yeah, it came at a cost for me to stand here
Arms in the air to You, with no fanfare
Pure as the day You found me as a child
All my heart, my praise, and every mile they're Yours

All I am is because of You
All I'll be is because of You
All I was is lost, but now I'm found

All I am is because of You
All I'll be is because of You
All I was is lost, but now I'm found

(Yeah, ayy)
There's a light in the distance searchin' for a lost one
Hiding in the darkness running, running
Feeling forgotten, mind beginning to race, yeah
Still takin' steps to let the sun lift her face
Let the sun lift her faith, feel the light on her skin
If you just saw the surface, you wouldn't know what's within
The pain, the stress, the weight, she's questioning her fate
Heart is broken, askin', "Lord, is there another way?"
Heard the Savior could save the day
So she's runnin', runnin'
Runnin' to His embrace
She's found, and now forever spoken for
A child of the King, a daughter of the good Lord

I once was lost
I was running, running
But now I'm found
I once was lost
But now I'm found

I once was lost
I was running, running
But now I'm found

But now I'm found

'Cause of You, Lord
All I am is because of You
'Cause of You
All I'll be is because of You
'Cause of You, Lord

'Cause of You, Lord
All I am is because of You
'Cause of You
'Cause of You, Lord

'Cause of You, Lord
All because of You
'Cause of You, Lord
Now I'm found
'Cause of You, Lord
All because of You
Now I'm forever Yours

I once was lost
But You found me
Lord, You found me
I once was lost

I'm found
I'm found
