

Missing You

Todd Snider

I feel like missing you today
Sometimes I just get this way
Seems like everything I see
Brings back another memory
I must feel like missing you today

You're never too far from my mind
I feel like crying sometimes
It's always been so hard to do
Especially when it comes to you
You're never too far from my mind

I know someday I'll see your smiling face again
I don't know when but I know it's true
One other thing I know
No matter where we go
You love me and I love you

I can't help wondering out loud
If we'd have ever worked things out
I wish I could make amends
For anything I might have said back then
I can't help wondering out loud

I feel like missing you today
I ain't lettin' nobody stand in my way
I'm gonna pull down these shades
And play some old songs
