

Alison

together PANGEA

It's time to sit and write it down
So all the world can know about
Someone that came before you
It started back when I was young
That girl showed me just what was up
And that was half a life ago

Don't get me started on those eyes
But it happened last Friday night

Talking about all this time that passed us by
No I don't want to wait around no more
And I hope she decides that now is right
I want to hear her knock on down my door

She's always cooler than the guys
The other girls, they dropped like flies
She's a shotgun, the brightest in the sky
And I know too well, timing ain't right
It never is, but just last night
Yeah I kissed her, and held her tight

And now I can die
If it took this long, no it can't be wrong, am I right?

Talking about all this time that passed us by
No I don't want to wait around no more
And I hope she decides that now is right
I wanna hear her knock on down my door

Talking about all this time that passed us by
No I don't want to wait around no more
And I hope she decides that now is right
Oh Alison, come knock on down my door
