

How To Love

Tokio Hotel

Your second time in L.A.
It is not your favorite place
But my home
You fool

I'm canceling all my plans
Introduce you to all my friends
It feels
All good

I didn't see it coming, but now I'm realizing
You run all your life
My reflections disappear as I'm staring in the mirror
Not a single tear left to cry

Tell me how to fall in love with myself
Oh, I don't need no one
Oh my God, I need to fall back into love with myself
No, I don't need no one
Oh my God, I need to fall back into love, love
Need to fall back into love, love

Burning up all your things
Not sure where I should begin
You cut
So deep

But damn it, I won't give in
I've come way too far to quit now

Tell me how to fall in love with myself
Oh, I don't need no one
Oh my God, I need to fall back into love with myself
No, I don't need no one
Oh my God, I need to fall back into love, love
Need to fall back into love, love

I didn't see it coming, but now I'm realizing
You run all your life
My reflections disappear as I'm staring in the mirror
Not a single tear left to cry

Tell me how to fall in love with myself
Oh, I don't need no one
Oh my God, I need to fall back into love with myself
No, I don't need no one
Oh my God, I need to fall back into love, love
Need to fall back into love, love

Need to fall back into love, love
Need to fall back into love, love
