

Traces

Tom Aspaul

Going over and over
Everything in my head
Looks like I am forgetting, how to forget
Soon you'll be back again
Soon you'll be back again
And I'm not prepared (and I'm not prepared)

There's an outline of your face
That could be drunk mistake
You're not really there, I imagined it
I can taste you in the air
The cologne used to wear
You're not really there, I imagined it

You're not really there
I can only feel traces of you
If you really care
Then you'd leave me alone, leave me alone
Tonight, I don't wanna be reminded
There's only traces of you left

It's taken all of my energy, to feel like
I am finally getting back to my life
But soon you'll be here again
Reminding me again
That I'm not prepared (no I'm not prepared)

I can taste you in the air
The cologne you used to wear
You're not really there

You're not really there
I can only feel traces of you
If you really care
Then you'd leave me alone, leave me alone
Tonight, I don't wanna be reminded
You're not really there (you're not really there)

I can only feel traces of you
If you really care (you're not really there)
Then you'd leave me alone, leave me alone
Tonight (you're not really there)
I don't wanna be reminded
There's only traces of you left

Oh and sooner or later you'll disappear
And I'll be left with the memory
And feelings linger on for days
And everywhere I'll see your face
Oh it's always at my lowest moments
That's when I need you
I'm only fooling myself (myself)
That you'll be back again
Mmm

You're not really there

I can only feel traces of you
If you really care
Then you'd leave me alone, leave me alone
Tonight, I don't wanna be reminded
There's only traces of you left
You're not really there
(You're not really there, I imagined it)
If you really care
(You're not really there, not really there)
Tonight (you're not really there, I imagined it)
I don't wanna be reminded
There's only traces of you left (traces of you)
(I imagined it)

I can taste you in the air
(You're not really there, I imagined it)
The cologne you used to wear
(You're not really there, not really there)
