

What Is Real Anymore?

Tom Aspaul

You were mine at the start of the night
I don't know what happened after dawn
I could feel I was losing your eyes
So let me know, did I do something wrong

And were you thinking of telling me the truth
You got my eye and it's watching every move
So how's it game, when it's plain on you

What is real anymore
When my lonely heart belongs to the night
What is real anymore
Who's deciding what is wrong and what is right?

Could have sworn I was in control
So how does everything feel like a bug
Did you pretend I was yours to hold
Or maybe it was me pretending first

And were you thinking of telling me the truth
You got my eye and it's watching every move
So how's it game, when it's plain on you

What is real anymore

When my lonely heart belongs to the night
What is real anymore
Who's deciding what is wrong and what is right?
Alright, you and me never said we were angels
Alright, what is real anymore
Who's deciding what is wrong and what is right?

And were you thinking of telling me the truth
You got my eye and it's watching every move
So how's it game, when it's plain on you

What is real anymore
When my lonely heart belongs to the night
What is real anymore
Who's deciding what is wrong and what is right?
What is real anymore
When my lonely heart belongs to the night
What is real anymore
Who's deciding what is wrong and what is right?
Alright, you and me never said we were angels
Alright, what is real anymore
Who's deciding what is wrong and what is right?
