

Cameo

Tom Chaplin

Everywhere I go, cameo
Player in a big production, bit part in the show
Lord, I wanna keep my old enemies
From stealing the heart of the scene

The days of waiting are over
The dawn of wonder is climbing through my window
The day of reckoning's closer now

One fine soliloquy, loudly
My final role will not be a cameo

Everywhere I roam, I'm a ghost
Just tryna find my own reflection someplace I don't know
Lord I wanna feel the ecstasy
In the last stage that's waiting for me

One fine soliloquy, loudly
My final role will not be a cameo

Too tired and old
To take the starring role
Still, I don't want no cameo

One fine soliloquy loudly
My final role will not be a cameo