

Cheating Death

Tom Chaplin

Quick to burn but slow to learn
With every breath
Cheating death
Life's a storm
You've got to keep warm
Cause with every breath you're cheating death

Breathe in Breathe out
Never look down at that empty lake
That pit of snakes
That dream from which no one awakes

Times are tough
The water's rough
At best you'll be cast out to sea
Wind don't fail
Let it bend your sail
Let the natural force blow you to safer shores

And never think how
We blink in, blink out of this universe
The stars will burst
There's no reverse
This life's a curse

Just keep believing till your dying day
Don't let the night in, keep lighting your way
You've got the strength to go on
Search in yourself and be strong

Just keep believing till your dying day
Don't let the night in, keep lighting your way
You've got the strength to go on
Search in yourself and be strong

Keep on searching on
Keep on searching on

Search in yourself and be strong
