

Neruda

Tom Cochrane

Talked to a boy I passed along the way
Talked to a man who knew the boy
And there are many
And there are few
But no one knows the boy like you

There were no lines drawn
And no hatred in their eyes
And no flags flown in that boy's sky