

Animals

Tom DeLonge

Can't hide, I can run but I can't hide

I feel like there's an ache
There's something in my eye
Like a bird after its prey
A tiny parasite

You attach right to my soul
I walked across the sky
The night began to glow
And the darkness became light
Your poisonous tonight

I got this stolen heart
I'm lying but I can aim
Like a stitch to pull apart
It will bleed but it's a game

You attach right to my soul
I walked across the sky
The night began to glow
And the darkness became light
Your poisonous tonight

You attach right to my soul
I walked across the sky
The night began to glow
And the darkness became light

You're like a burning flame
You can run but you can't hide
I'll avoid but can't stand the pain
On your way to paradise
Your poisonous tonight
