

Lifeline

Tom Dice

Music is my love
But love's my only freedom
I'm searching for the light
And try to find my demons, yeah

Seems like every time I think
I found the answer
Everything just falls apart
Yeah every time I think
I found the answer
I'm just right back at the start

So throw me a lifeline
Suddenly it's hard to breathe
So throw me the red wine
Honey the red wine
It's just a little remedy, yeah
You could be my lifeline

So I've been searching for a saint
You certainly move like one
But don't take me to your place
If romance is a shotgun, a shotgun

Seems like every time I think
I found the answer
Everything just falls apart
Yeah every time I think
I found the answer
I'm just right back at the start

So throw me a lifeline
Suddenly it's hard to breathe
And throw me the red wine
Honey the red wine
It's just a little remedy, yeah
You could be my lifeline

Seems like every time I think
I found the answer
Everything just falls apart
Yeah every time I think
I found the answer
I'm just right back at the start, yeah

Throw me a lifeline
Suddenly it's hard to breathe
So throw me the red wine
The red, red wine
It's just a little remedy, yeah
You could be my, oh honey
You could be my lifeline
