

Right Between The Eyes

Tom Dice

Baby it's the same old story you've been told about me
That I've got wandering eyes and all I do is lie, but that's just not good
You know that imagination is making up things as it goes along

You say I'm not ready for love
But that's all I've been thinking of
Believe me
Believe me
You came straight down from the sky
And hit me right between the eyes
Believe me
Believe me

Hide yourself away as I try to explain that it's you I wanna be
So I'd like go back changing this hopeless situation, you can't see sense
I know you won't see sense
You know that imagination is making up things as it goes along
It goes along, it goes along

You say I'm not ready for love
But that's all I've been thinking of
Believe me
Believe me
You came straight down from the sky
And hit me right between the eyes
Believe me
Believe me

Sorry that you got me wrong
Just I was a little lost
I was a little lonely
Sorry that you got me so wrong
I was a little lost
And now I'm higher than the sun

You say I'm not ready for love
But that's all I've been thinking of
Believe me
Believe me
You came straight down from the sky
And hit me right between the eyes
Believe me
Believe me

You say I'm not ready for love
But that's all I've been thinking of
Believe me
Believe me
You came straight down from the sky
And hit me right between the eyes
Believe me
Baby believe me
You better believe me
