By Your Side

Tom Gregory

I've lived by the sea for sixteen years now
But something says I gotta leave this town
I've packed my bags and in my head I've I've left a thousand times

Out of nowhere you walked by
Maybe I don't wanna leave this town no more, no more

There's something that you did to this town that I
Don't understand 'cause recently I've been trying
To leave this place, but whenever you arrive I can't help it
I just want myself being by your side, by your side

We walked by the waves and watched the sky fall
And I swear you can make the sun shine brighter
You've packed your bags and now you have to go back home
I'd follow you a thousand times

Out of nowhere you walked by
Maybe I don't wanna leave this town no more

There's something that you did to this town that I
Don't understand 'cause recently I've been trying
To leave this place, but whenever you arrive I can't help it
I just want myself being by your side, by your side

Ooh ooh, I can't help it
Ooh ooh, I can't help it
Ooh ooh, I can't help it
Ooh ooh, I can't help it

I was walking in shadows
Then you were right there beside me
I was walking in shadows
Then you were right there beside me
I was walking in shadows
Then you were right there beside me
I was walking in shadows
Then you were right there beside me

There's something that you did to this town that I
Don't understand 'cause recently I've been trying
To leave this place, but whenever you arrive I can't help it
I just want myself being by your side, by your side

Ooh ooh, I can't help it
Ooh ooh, I can't help it
Ooh ooh, I can't help it
Ooh ooh, darling, I can't help it
