

Boys Don't Cry

Tom Grennan

Someone fix me, I've been bleeding, bleeding out
I'm in six feet, I'm not fatal, I'm breathing now

Oh-oh-oh
Why? Why? Why?
What do you expect me to be?
Why? Why?
What do you want from me?
And I'm asking 'cause I don't know
Why boys just ain't meant to—

Boys just ain't meant to cry, to cry
'Cause boys just ain't meant to cry, to cry

Did I need saving from the lies that I've been told? Ya
Every time I'm broke, I get tired of carrying this heavy load

Oh-oh, oh-oh-oh
Why? Why? Why?
What do you expect me to be?
Why? Why?
What do you want from me?
And I'm asking 'cause I don't know
Why boys just ain't meant to—

Boys just ain't meant to cry, to cry
'Cause boys just ain't meant to cry, to cry

I don't know why I've been hiding my feels
And I don't know why I've been saving my tears

'Cause boys just ain't meant to cry, to cry
Boys just ain't meant to cry, to cry

Oh, I don't know why I've been hiding my feels
And I don't know why I've been saving my tears

'Cause boys just ain't meant to cry, to cry
'Cause boys just ain't meant to cry, to cry
