

Full Attention

Tom Grennan

I just wanna give you my
Full attention
For the first time I feel alive
A real connection
And nothing's gonna change my mind

I've done what I needed to do
Oh, the weather man predicted a change
I had to get deep with the truth
Had to believe that I had some faith

Alright
I just had to take the time
I just had to make it right
I just wanna give you my

Full attention
For the first time I feel alive
A real connection
And nothing's gonna change my mind
So give in to love
To find where you belong
So give in to love
To find where you belong

Now the lines ain't working for me
And I needed something new (Something new)
All the hours in the chair
That's where she taught me what to do
Looking down a telescope at what I could be
Oh finally now I can see

I guess
I just had to take the time
I just had to make it right
Oh I just wanna give you my

Full attention
For the first time I feel alive
A real connection
And nothing's gonna change my mind
So give in to love
To find where you belong
So give in to love
To find where you belong

My full attention
For the first time I feel alive
A real connection
And nothing's gonna change my mind
Full attention
For the first time I feel alive
A real connection
And nothing's gonna change my mind
