

Lonely Dancer

Tom Grennan

She's all alone until the music plays
In a crowded room, she keeps her space
She hides the pain behind the moves she makes
No, she came alone, she'll leave that way

She's a lonely dancer
She don't want, she don't want, she don't want, she don't want
no stranger
She's a lonely dancer
She don't want, she don't want, she don't want no one to change
her
She's a lonely dancer
Lonely dancer
She's a lonely dancer

She knows the lyrics, she knows every line
But she's dancing with tears in her eyes
She hides the feelings under flashing lights
I might never know the reason why

Oh, she's free for a minute, so lost up in it
But she needs to be spinning to feel alright

She's a lonely dancer
She don't want, she don't want, she don't want, she don't want
no stranger
She's a lonely dancer
She don't want, she don't want, she don't want no one to change
her
She's a lonely dancer
Lonely dancer
She's a lonely dancer

(Hey)

She's a lonely, lonely dancer (She's alone)
No, I'll never know the answer, hey (What she knows)
She's a lonely, lonely dancer
Only wants to dance on her own (On her own)
