Never Be A Right Time

Tom Grennan

Sit me down and tell me straight
'Cause it feels like you've been drifting away
It's in all the love that we don't make
So let it out, let me down, I'm ready now
Are we holding on just for the sake
Of a story that we're yet to make?
Oh, I know it might be hard to take
I'm ready now, let it out, let me down

Don't let me down gently 'cause kindness is a killer
It's time that we figured it out
I know it's complicated but if the love has faded
Just walk away and don't turn around

There'll never be a right time, right time, to break my heart
There ain't a right time, right time
There'll never be a right time, right time, to break my heart
There ain't a right time, right time

I know it's gonna leave me with scars
And I wish that we can make it last
But I'm tired of living in the past
I'm ready now, let it out, come let me down

Don't let me down gently 'cause kindness is a killer
It's time that we figured it out
I know it's complicated but if the love has faded
Just walk away and don't turn around

There'll never be a right time, right time, to break my heart
There ain't a right time, right time
There'll never be a right time, right time, to break my heart
There ain't a right time, right time
Do it fast, don't do it slow, I'm not afraid of being on my own
There'll never be a right time, right time, to break my heart
There ain't a right time, right time

I need to grow into my own skin, that's all I'm asking for
'Cause you owe me the truth, win or lose, win or lose it all

There'll never be a right time, right time
There'll never be a right time, right time
There'll never be a right time, right time
There'll never be a right time, right time

There'll never be a right time, right time, to break my heart
There ain't a right time, right time
There'll never be a right time, right time, to break my heart
There ain't a right time, right time
Do it fast, don't do it slow, I'm not afraid of being on my own
There'll never be a right time, right time, to break my heart
There ain't a right time, right time
