

Sweeter Then

Tom Grennan

Oh, I lost my train of thought, almost forgotten who you were
I know I'm changing but believe I was sweeter then
I still remember from the beginning, different cocktails, different women
I know I say this but believe I was sweeter then
I know you've been there from the start
But let me fly amongst the stars
Oh, I promise that I'll always come back down
Oh

Babe forgive me, I know I've been a mystery
I need reminding of the things that we had planned
Oh, babe forgive me, I know I'm here on my knees
Oh, I plead trying to be a better man
Oh, I was sweeter then

Yeah, I've been here and I've done that
Said the wrong things, to that I own up
Took the wrong bus but now I know where I belong
Been different towns, been different cities
But they're not new when you're not with me
Yeah, I've heard a few and yes they sing my songs
I know you've been there from the start
But let me fly amongst the stars
Oh, I promise that I'll always come back down
Oh

Babe forgive me, I know I've been a mystery
I need reminding of the things that we had planned
Oh, babe forgive me, I know I'm here on my knees
Oh, I plead trying to be a better man
Oh, I was sweeter then

Sweeter then, sweeter then, sweeter than I'll ever be
Sweeter then, sweeter then, sweeter than I'll ever be
Sweeter then, sweeter then, sweeter than I'll ever be Sweeter then, sweeter then

Babe, forgive me, I know I've been a mystery
I need reminding of the things that we had planned
Oh, babe forgive me, I know I've been a mystery
I need reminding of the things that we had planned
Oh, babe forgive me, I know I'm here on my knees
Oh, I plead trying to be a better man
Oh, I was sweeter then
