

Make Believe World

Tom Jones

Maybe I should make it clear
The man you've seen left standing here
Has just changed a new kind of me
And I don't wait in case you call
No I don't seem to care it all
Now I can't forget about you at night

But sometimes I can't fight when I must I can't help just

Reaching out to touch you as though you are near me
I need you now you're much too far out to hear me
I must let love die I must try but I can't help just Calling out I miss you as though you still listen
And I pretend to kiss you with eyes that still glisten
You still hold me tight in a make believe world of the night

You think you couldn't matter less to see my mass of hopelessness
I played a part and each line is right

But sometimes I can't fight
when I must I can't help just

Reaching out to touch you as though you are near me
I need you now you're much too far out to hear me
I must let love die I must try but I can't help just
Calling out I miss you as though you still listen
And I pretend to kiss you with eyes that still glisten
You still hold me tight in a make believe world of the night

Reaching out to touch you as though you are near me
I need you now you're much too far out to hear me
I must let love die I must try but I can't help just
Calling out I miss you as though you still listen
And I pretend to kiss you with eyes that still glisten
You still hold me tight in a make believe world of the night
