Addicted

Tom MacDonald

I quit cigarettes and liquor
I quit living like a sinner
I quit tons of things I wish I could do
And I quit fighting with my mama
I quit getting into drama
But, baby, I can't quit you

Yeah, I put the bottle down
And all my wheat turned into ash
The pills I used to take
I put them all into the trash
Yeah, I poured the whiskey out
And I flushed every single gram
And all the girls I used to chase, next to you dont stand a chance

I'm addicted, everyone knows
You're my dragon and I'll chase you to the end of the road
Oh, my dear, you're so addictive, I should have known
I'd inject you in my veins or put you straight up my nose

I quit hanging out with losers
I quit coming home with bruises
I quit tons of things that I used to do
And I quit running from my problems
I quit spending every dollar
But baby, I can't quit you

Yeah, I put the bottle down
And all my wheat turned into ash
The pills I used to take
I put them all into the trash
Yeah, I poured the whiskey out
And I flushed every single gram
And all the girls I used to chase, next to you dont stand a chance

I'm addicted, everyone knows
You're my dragon and I'll chase you to the end of the road
Oh, my dear, you're so addictive, I should have known
I'd inject you in my veins or put you straight up my nose

I can't quit you, I know 'cause I've tried
I just keep getting high on your love
I'm addicted, I know, 'cause I lie to myself like this is sober enough
I keep thinking you're sugar and spice
I just keep getting high, what the fuck?
I'm addicted and I don't know why
But I keep trying to buy your drug

I'm addicted, everyone knows
You're my dragon and I'll chase you to the end of the road
Oh, my dear, you're so addictive, I should have known
I'd inject you in my veins or put you straight up my nose

I'm addicted, everyone knows
You're my dragon and I'll chase you to the end of the road
Oh, my dear, you're so addictive, I should have known
I'd inject you in my veins or put you straight up my nose
