Broke My Own Heart

Tom MacDonald

I've never been the perfect brother
No, I've never been the perfect son
And I never even said I loved her
When she told me I was the one
I've been searching, who can I blame?
For fucking things up, 'cause this isn't going right
And I've been hurting, all of my pain
Is nobody's fault, I wish that it wasn't mine

'Cause I ain't sober, I been running wild
Try'na have some fun for just a little while
Drinking like it's finally going out of style but it won't
And I've ruined things that make me smile
Everytime they gave in tried to take them out
Now I'm thinking deeper in denial, my heart is broke

Baby, I broke my own heart
Shattered it into 4 parts
Always thought I was so smart, so smart, so it goes
Baby, I broke my own heart
Drove over it with your car
So I can try and say it's your fault, your fault, it's my own

No, I've never been the perfect lover
I've never been the perfect friend
I was wild as hell for 30 summers
I was running wild as the wind
I regret, babe, things I can't change
It is what it is, I wish that it wasn't so
And I forget things that caused you pain
I'm locking it out where I was too drunk and stoned

'Cause I ain't sober, I been running wild
Try'na have some fun for just a little while
Drinking like it's finally going out of style but it won't
And I've ruined things that make me smile
Everytime they gave in tried to take them out
Now I'm thinking deeper in denial, my heart is broke

Baby, I broke my own heart
Shattered it into 4 parts
Always thought I was so smart, so smart, so it goes
Baby, I broke my own heart
Drove over it with your car
So I can try and say it's your fault, your fault, it's my own

Maybe, I ain't a saint, maybe I was a sinner
Maybe I will always be going through hell
Maybe, I ain't a saint, maybe I ain't a winner
Maybe I will always try to blame someone else

Baby, I broke my own heart
Shattered it into 4 parts
Always thought I was so smart, so smart, so it goes
Baby, I broke my own heart
Drove over it with your car
So I can try and say it's your fault, your fault, it's my own
