

Forget

Tom MacDonald

I'm on my live up to my own expectations, I'm a man shit
Leave the fucking country to go tour Paris, France shit
That broken heart and whiskey, kinda faded kinda mad shit
You couldn't understand unless you heard it from your dad shit
I feel like I have outgrown all the people who I know from home
My friends are getting mortgages on houses down the wrong roads
I'm working on a record and they working on some weed
When I'm working on my next then they'll work on songs about me

I'm doing me so hard, if it's trendy then fuck with it Either way I don't care, I'm happy that I stuck with it Even though I lost the only girl I ever loved for it Even though I skipped Friday night in the club for it I'm doing me so true, drinking Miso soup with the people who I care about Forget the feds are looking for us, they don't know the whereabouts
My Instagram is public, full of selfies where we hanging out

I'm so tired of being promised the world
My family gets excited, and not to mention my girl
They just wanna see me make it, I'm 7 years in the making and they been so h
ella patient I just wanna make it work, yeah
I'm the motherfucking kid, everything I told them I was gonna do I did, yeah
I'm the reason why they tripping
You need to go and take it, and I'll wait until it's given

I won't forget where we came from if they promise they won't forget why we h ere
And I will never make them do a damn thing that puts them in the middle of a ny kind of beef
And I won't forget who we left there if they promise they won't forget where we gone, oh
I will never hold it against them if they ever tell me that they really gott a go home

I'm on my reservations at a restaurant, rum and Coke diet
Sober prior of all my business, no co-sign
My smart, young adult shit
My falling out of love shit
My I will never, I will never ever give a fuck shit
Been sacrificing everything for anything but nothing yet Something must be coming, I been working since we all went in My no athletics, bad credit, work ethics shit
Fast forward through the commercials and all the credits shit
My no time, all the time, every time I get it shit
My bored in the library, I already read it shit

I'm in the zone, Styrofoam full of rewind
I'm in the zone and my cups stacked 3 high I'm the zone with a Styrofoam cup and like anyone who ever came around and g ave a fuck at all
No turn up shit, I'm on my California love, post Europe shit

I'm so tired of being promised the world
My family gets excited, and not to mention my girl
They just wanna see me make it, I'm 7 years in the making and they been so h
ella patient I just wanna make it work, yeah
I'm the motherfucking kid, everything I told them I was gonna do I did, yeah
