Tom MacDonald

Do you know what a dream is?
To have dreams, to have dreams
To have dreams, to have dreams
To have dreams, to have dreams
To have dreams, to have dreams
A dream's like, almost like when you're thinking but they're kind of different things
Which dream do you like the best?
Which dream do you like the best?
What's your favorite dream?
What's your favorite dream?
What's your favorite dream?
Seems like you have a really smart way of dealing with bad dreams, that's nice
Bad dreams, bad dreams, bad dreams, bad dreams
But what do these reoccurring dreams really mean?
All these dreams do come from specific experiences or places
To have dreams
What's your favorite dream?
I-I-I I have a continuous reoccurring dream

I've opened doors in my life that
I can't close, I don't regret it
The avenues that I traveled will forever
Forever, forever, forever
Influence my existence though
You know I can't uh, I can't sleep
Between like 3 and 4 AM 'cause that's when it happens
They're here at like 3 AM every day
And they stay for like an hour
They move my curtains, they turn on water in the bathroom
They sit next to me on the couch, y'know they
They tryna scare me, but it doesn't work
I'm not afraid, but when you sleep, when you sleep
You don't have the option to not be afraid anymore
And in this realm that's really your only defense
Like the conscience thought that you are not afraid is the only thing that you can do to Combat them, so when I sleep I'm defenseless, uh
Just like anybody else would be, um, so yeah that's when they get at me
Uh, they don't do anything, they take advantage of my inability to protect myself
And know that I wake up like sweating, crying, gasping for breath
Like y-you know a-
and I struggle to wake up they don't just want to let me go
It's, uh, it's a real struggle they sorry, they, uh
They hold me in this state of paralysis for as long as they can
And when I come out of it I'm left with this feeling
This awful fucking feeling, that I can't even like describe
I don't think there's, I-I don't think there's probably words for it
But I'm plagued, uh, by that feeling for the entire day
Like I'm, I'm just angry, you know, uh, I'm not angry at them, i-it's not them
That made me mad it's, like I'm mad at myself for, for Giving them the opportunity to, to do that, you know
Bad Dream Mad Again

Guess who, bad shirt, tattoos, long hair
Blunt lit, smart bitch, my dudes all here
That's Mr. Mac, that's Mr. Mac, oh man, that's Mr. Mac
Yeah, that's Mr. Mac
I've been riding it out, laying it down, rolling around with some models
Man my girl could fuck your girl she pulled a Tom MacDonald
Man, that's Mr. Mac, yeah that's Mr. Mac, yeah
That's Mr. Mac, that's Mr. Mac ya dig hoe?

They think we fucking around over here
It's crazy, yo, your favorite rapper thinks about me every time he record a track
He like "It's gotta be better than that Tom MacDonald shit" ya dig fuck them

Bad Dream Mad Again, hoe
To have dreams, to have dreams
What's your favorite dream?
To have dreams, to have dreams
What's your favorite dream?
Bad Dream Mad Again
