

Million

Tom MacDonald

I'm a million fuckin' photos in your iPhone 10
I'm a million fuckin' messages I left unread
I'm a million fuckin' memories inside your head
I'm a million fuckin' enemies if we're not friends

Used to call me bro, adios, we not dawgs now
Blowin' up my phone, we not close, whatchu want now?
All the trust is broke, you're a ghost, you're with God now
Try to say hello, I gotta go, you get blocked now
Purple hearts and battle scars
So keep you and yours through you and yours
These brake lights ain't shooting stars
Now we're two strangers in passing cars

And I already cried my tears, boo-hoo
And I don't need to creep just to see you lose
And I don't need to wish bad shit on you
Because my life went good and all my dreams came true

I'm a million fuckin' photos in your iPhone 10
I'm a million fuckin' messages I left unread
I'm a million fuckin' memories inside your head
I'm a million fuckin' enemies if we're not friends
I'm a million fuckin' photos in your iPhone 10
I'm a million fuckin' messages I left unread
I'm a million fuckin' memories inside your head
I'm a million fuckin' enemies if we're not friends

I felt it in my bones, you a hoe, not a real one
Tried to keep you close, you were cold, now I feel numb
All the love I showed, now I know that was real dumb
Fuck saying hello, it's on sight till the police come
These memories don't do enough
You will never be someone I trust
You went on read and you went bust
You could save the soul for all the [?], yeah

And I already cried my tears, boo-hoo
And I don't need to creep just to see you lose
And I don't need to wish bad shit on you
Because my life went good and all my dreams came true

I'm a million fuckin' photos in your iPhone 10
I'm a million fuckin' messages I left unread
