

New World Order

Tom MacDonald

Here's the problem with America, the country is broken
'Cause they minds stay closed but they mouths stay open
Get attacked and we blame terrorists, go broke and we blame the price
Blame racists for the racism but only if his skin is white
If we don't need guns 'cause we can call the police
We don't need fire extinguishers, call the fireman, please
You didn't wanna build a wall and now the border is weak
Your favorite actor has a gate that's like fifteen feet
Racism is gay, if you're offended, that's retarded
And tolerance is great until you speak and you're a target
If a white man paints his face black he's a racist piece of garbage
But you put him in a dress and he's courageous and he's gorgeous
All these double standards, man, I'm tired of the noise
Freedom's an illusion if they censor your voice
Call a dad a deadbeat for neglecting his boys
But a mom kills a baby and you call it pro-choice

You act like you're so much better than us, yeah we know that
Who told you that you so special? Screw a New World Order
Your facts ain't facts without censoring us, yeah we know that
Good job, you lose, here's your medal, screw a New World Order

Why they hate the flag? They try to burn it to the ground
Don't do that in front of me, I'ma let off a round, pow
Scream loud, burn the city down now
Put it on the news, make 'em all feel proud, look
Make a system where eighty-five percent of black people fill the prison
Is it 'cause they black or they make bad decisions?
I ain't good at math but it seems like it's division
Or is it white privilege?
I believe politicians need to be locked up
Try to take our freedoms, that's how you get shot up
Got our back against the wall, try to just stop us
More guns, more ammunition, please stock up
Election gets rigged
Rights get infringed, take the syringe
Frighten your kids, show up right where you live
Make me wanna grab a rifle and just go

You act like you're so much better than us, yeah we know that
Who told you that you so special? Screw a New World Order
Your facts ain't facts without censoring us, yeah we know that
Good job, you lose, here's your medal, screw a New World Order

And everyone blames white folks for every little bitty thing
We don't have no one to blame, we take responsibility
They tell you be a man then call it toxic masculinity
Then when you act too feminine they call it white fragility
I don't understand trans men with humility
I'm just tryna raise my kid the best of my ability
If I disagree you try to cancel, get rid of me
You cancer, you can't be the answer, you killing me
And I hate white supremacy just as much as you
But I ain't feeling guilty for something I didn't do
The system's killing everyone, it sucks, but it's true
They kill you then they broadcast it and call it the news
Or they'll brainwash you through social media feeds

And if you disagree, delete you immediately
Make America China, pretty easy to see
I will always remember the land of the free

You act like you're so much better than us, yeah we know that
Who told you that you so special? Screw a New World Order
Your facts ain't facts without censoring us, yeah we know that
Good job, you lose, here's your medal, screw a New World Order
