

Run

Tom MacDonald

I'm gonna run, I'm gonna run, I'm gonna run
I'm gonna run away, I'm gonna ruin it all
I'm gonna run, I'm gonna run, I'm gonna run
Into the darkness, away from the sun
Forget that it started, remember it's done

And you can watch me leave if you really wanna see it
And I'll look back and I'll remember those people
The ones who came to watch it all happen in the middle of the night
Man, Prada is the fashion
Pain is the product of passion
Ain't you seen fatal attraction?
I'm not tripping, we did this before, it didn't work
Don't you remember? We were fucking, I was skipping work
Uh, I mean I'm over it, I'm sorry, this story gets ended but it's kinda on some maury shit
Young enough to know there's plenty more hoes
And I'm smart enough to know they are not the same hoes, what's up
I'm running through the numbers in my phone
And I'm running out of options while I'm running out the door
But I'm gone, oh my god
I am done with it all
I fucked her, fucked her

And then I get the call
I'll be honest, I'd rather not
But I heard you took the fall
Running through the darkness
Tonight you feel lost
So I throw my phone
And I leave you alone
I'm running, I'm running

I'm gonna run, I'm gonna run, I'm gonna run
I'm gonna run away, I'm gonna ruin it all
I'm gonna run, I'm gonna run, I'm gonna run
Into the darkness, away from the sun
Forget that it started, remember it's done

I ain't even pretending it isn't selfish
I'm not tryna eat my words with my shellfish
Just admit it, we been going through hell bitch
What you got? A broken heart and a Chanel dress?
I'm confused, why do you want me back?
'Cause you love me, or 'cause I bought you that?
It doesn't really matter 'cause I fully know the pattern
And you're very good at making me believe you broke the habit
But it's bullshit, yeah, every time
I'm young, you're young, we got plenty time
Uh, and now I'm running 'til the end of time
Uh, and y'all are fading in the distance
Leave 'em in the desert with a single camel cigarette
Uh, I guess I'll be the bigger man
I'm sorry and I know it's hard, but this is fucked up
And I am fucking gone

And then I get the call

I'll be honest, I'd rather not
But I heard you took the fall
Running through the darkness
Tonight you feel lost
So I throw my phone
And I leave you alone
I'm running, I'm running

Well, okay, hello
Go, okay, hello
Okay, hello, well
Okay hel-hel-hello

I'm gonna run, I'm gonna run, I'm gonna run
I'm gonna run away, I'm gonna ruin it all
I'm gonna run, I'm gonna run, I'm gonna run
Into the darkness, away from the sun
Forget that it started, remember it's done

And then I get the call
I'll be honest, I'd rather not
But I heard you took the fall
Running through the darkness
Tonight you feel lost
So I throw my phone
And I leave you alone
I'm running, I'm running
