

Still Need Saving

Tom MacDonald

I'm happy for the people who have figured it out
I'm happy for the folks who went and turned it around
I'm proud of all people getting up when they're down
I'm praying I can do it before I'm in the ground, oh

I'm not okay, but I'll be fine
Baby, not today, but I'll make some time
To fix a lot of parts in me that make me so damn hard to love

Put the bottle down, then I scooped it up
Thought I got this down, then I screwed it up
I'm happy for the ones who made it, but baby

Some of us still need saving, need saving
Some of us still need saving, oh
Some of us still need saving, need saving
Some of us still need saving, oh

I'm happy for the people who have climbed out the trenches
I'm happy for the folks who got a white picket fences
I'm proud for the people who have cleaned up the messes
I'm praying I can do it before I'm in heaven

I'm not okay, but I'll be fine
I ask god for strength, I know I'll be alright
I'll fix a lot of parts in me that make me so damn hard to love

Put the bottle down, then I scooped it up
Thought I got this down, then I screwed it up
I'm happy for the ones who made it, but baby

Some of us still need saving, need saving
Some of us still need saving, oh
Some of us still need saving, need saving
Some of us still need saving, oh

And I'm jealous, man, but it still hurts me
To watch the ones who's lives are perfect
I wish that I was different, I could probably have a life so sweet
I ain't a brilliant man, they call me crazy
And I've been bad, but I keep praying
God ain't got it better than his angels, don't forget about me

'Cause some of us still need saving, need saving
Some of us still need saving, oh
Some of us still need saving, need saving
Some of us still need saving, oh
