

Talking Faded

Tom MacDonald

I hope we meet when we are older, 'cause it's not gonna work right now, right now
Right now I need to make it, the whiskey had me talking faded when I told you I would try to settle down
And now, everything's backwards
You're the one who been out late with them hoes
Everyone's wasted and I'm the one who been working all night at home
When everyone's turned up, you're the one that been talking, talking faded
You're the one that been talking, talking faded

I been working, man I been working so hard that y'all hardly ever get to see me in person
Man that's called working
When I was out I was so far gone, now I came back
When I turned up then, I could never figure out the right way to turn back
Man, shit was crazy, drowning in liquor on Wednesday
Bunch of bitches at my friends place, sipping on Daniels
Sipping and spilling the Daniels, man it was crazy
I don't know what we were thinking
With all the Harbot we were drinking
But parties will only get better
If I could just make this shit happen
Until then I'm thinking I'm good, I'm working
Motherfucker I'm working
I'm good, I'm working
Motherfucker I'm working

I hope we meet when we are older, 'cause it's not gonna work right now, right now
Right now I need to make it, the whiskey had me talking faded when I told you I would try to settle down
And now, everything's backwards
You're the one who been out late with them hoes
Everyone's wasted and I'm the one who been working all night at home
When everyone's turned up, you're the one that been talking, talking faded
You're the one who been talking, talking faded

Man, I was faded so long that that bullshit got boring to me
Man, I was fucked up and now I'm gonna be who I was born to be
Take on the world like my father, learn how to love like my mother
Try to be kind like my sister, work 'til I make it like ye did
Then toss all the money at bitches
I'm riding around in my dreams still Fucking around with my team still Puffing back on that weed still
I'm boycotting TV still
Writing between all the takes and then doing the math while the scene films
I am body white, indie musicians do not even need deals
That's called work
Motherfucker that's work
Motherfucker I'm working
Motherfucker that's work

I hope we meet when we are older, 'cause it's not gonna work right now, right now
Right now I need to make it, the whiskey had me talking faded when I told you I would try to settle down

And now, everything's backwards
You're the one who been out late with them hoes
Everyone's wasted and I'm the one who been working all night at home
When everyone's turned up, you're the one that been talking, talking faded
You're the one that been talking, talking faded
