

The Window

Tom MacDonald

I'm staring out the window wondering what I'll do
I been real good though, everything been cool
I can hear them talking just as if they're in the room
I can feel them watching me, I hope they stop it soon
My eyes feel like they're bleeding, guess I really love the view
w

I'm staring out the window
At you
At you

Tell me, tell me not to do it
Please
Help me
Tell me this is stupid
Just like you I was used to this
Tell me that you're a fucking loser
And I might try to love you again

I'm staring out the window, wonder what I'll say
I'm 'a take it real slow, I enjoy the way
I can see the darkness all around
I can feel it pulling on me now
They should see the beauty that I do

Staring out the window
At you

Tell me, tell me not to do it
Please
Help me
Tell me this is stupid
Just like you I was used to this
Tell me that you're a fucking loser
And I might try to love you again
